

Rasha Saad

CPO Quality Assurance Head – Novartis Pharmaceuticals,
Egypt

Rasha Saad, medical doctor, has been the CPO Quality Assurance Head since March 2012. Prior to that, from August 2009, Rasha had assumed the role of EEMEA Regional Quality Manager.

Rasha has been responsible for leading quality control initiatives in the region and a member of the global Process Improvement and Quality Management (PIQM).

In her role as Regional Medical Advisor for North Africa since January 2007, Rasha successfully built up medical capabilities and led the department's expansion. She clearly delivered on Novartis' values of speed and quality and was able to promote Novartis' image as our stakeholders' favored scientific partner. Rasha had successfully passed Novartis Quality Master's Program.
